meet morisons

Travelling back through the mists of time morisons began life in the mid 19th century as Alex Morison & Co. Since then the company has evolved into a leading full service law firm with offices in Edinburgh and Glasgow. There are seventeen partners in all with wide ranging expertise in Litigation, Lending and Recoveries, Residential Property, Corporate Law, Commercial Property, and Private Client and Estates.

One thing in common to every department is our attitude: open, honest, friendly and fresh. After all, there is no law that says the law has to be stuffy.

Our reputation has been built on long-term relationships with our clients. In short, clients stick to us, many of them for decades. Our approach breeds understanding, fosters confidence and makes the whole business of law altogether more enjoyable. If you're an existing client reading this then we trust our description of ourselves is accurate. (If not, we'd certainly like to hear why not.)

And if you're a prospective client? Well, perhaps the morisons' way of doing things might be a refreshing change for you.

mrs. marcos' shoes, a poor second

Of course, Imelda Marcos' love of shoes was famed the world over. But we reckon we've got her beaten hands down. Putting ourselves in our clients' shoes is something at which we've become remarkably adept. Always looking at things from our clients' perspective gives us a better understanding of what they need. And the advice we give will be more than just expert; it will also be totally relevant.

So, be they sensible brown brogues or stiletto heels, don't be surprised if we express an interest in your footwear (purely metaphorically speaking of course).

mining a rich seam

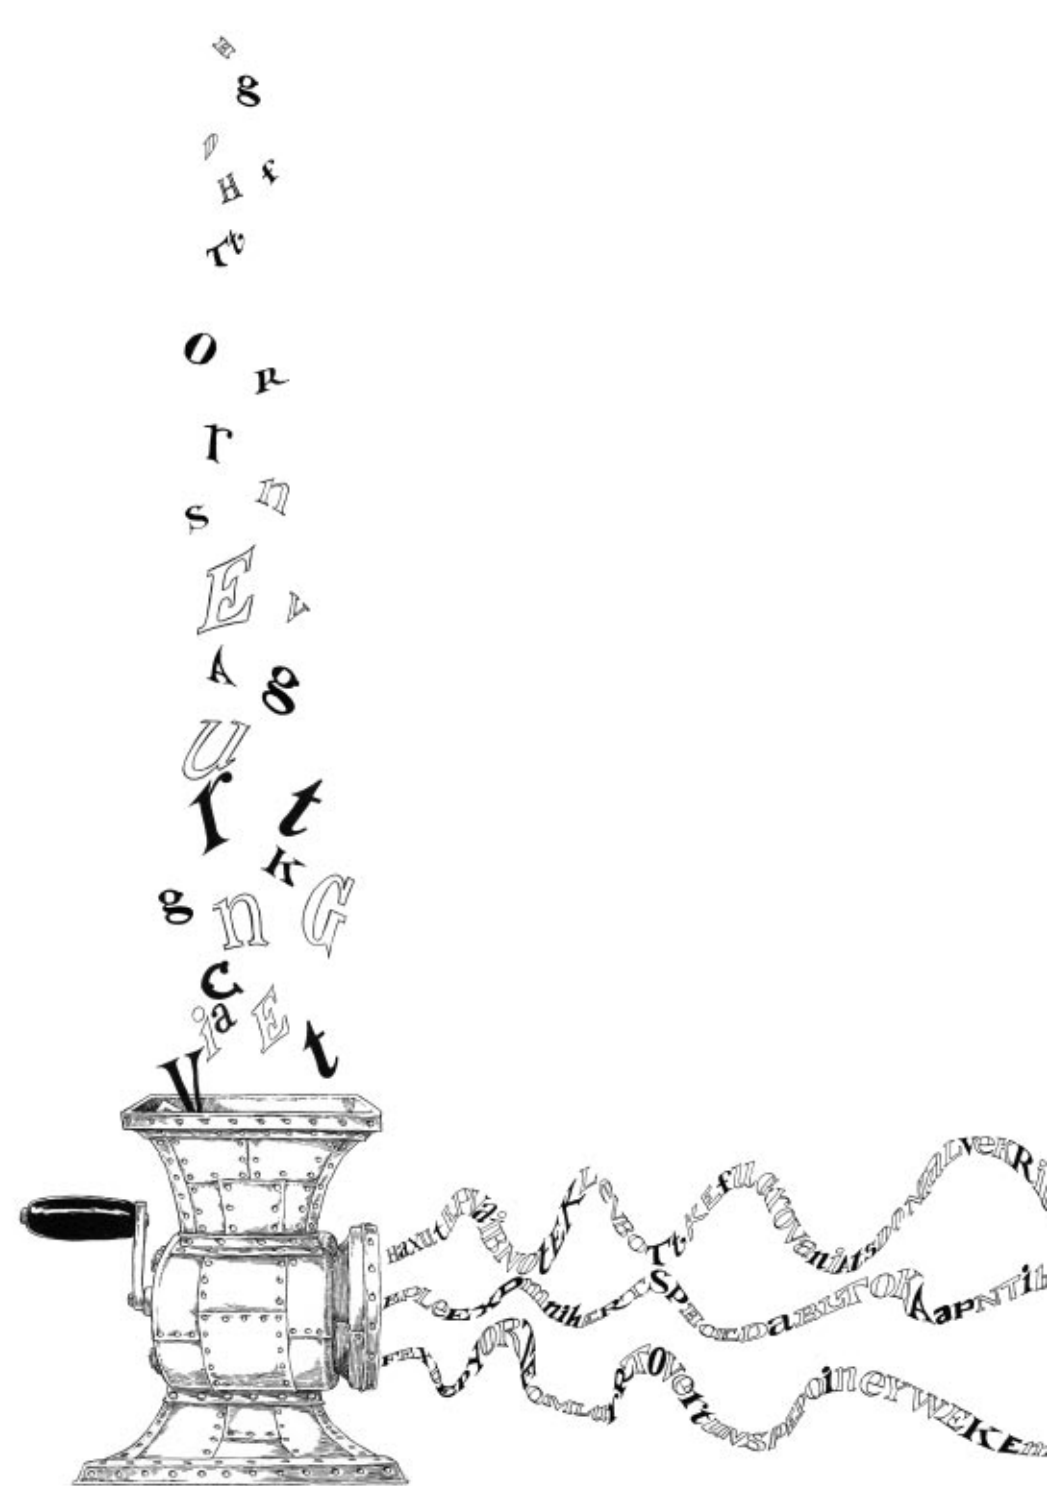

Every one of our clients has direct access to a senior partner, which is how it should be. However, working beneath every partner is a team providing huge strength in depth. Teamwork is at the heart of all that we do. Drill down through all the levels and you'll find the same firm commitment from top to bottom. Which is good news when you're at the coalface.

minced words and how to avoid them

At morisons we believe clients look for firm recommendations from their legal advisors. Not merely a hotchpotch of legal options dressed up in nice words.

Our solutions are based on the real world needs of the client. We work to their agenda, not our own. We endeavour to tell it how it is. If you're looking for well-considered legal recommendations delivered with confidence we'd be delighted to talk to you. (If it's mince you're after might we politely suggest a visit to the butcher).
